JOURNAL REPORT | U.S. COLLEGE RANKINGS

GLOBAL UNIVERSITIES RANKED BY SUBJECT

The Times Higher Education World University Rankings—which were released last week—take a different tack in measuring schools than The Wall Street Journal/Times Higher Education College Rankings of U.S. schools. The U.S. rankings focus on economic factors, such as the salaries graduates earn, and on schools' teaching capabilities, as measured in part by a survey of students. In contrast, the World University Rankings put a heavy weighting on schools' research efforts, including funding they attract for their research, and their reputations among academics globally.

The University of Oxford was No. 1 overall in the global rankings. Here's how schools around the world rank in each of eight academic disciplines.
